plauded at the close of his remarks, Representative Stiles Judson of Stratford was then introduced and spoke in a humorous vein, and brought into his talks funny hits on the peculiarities of various gentlemen present. Colonel Wood of Derby spoke next representing the minority in the lasrouse. He said he thought every memper acted for the best interests of the ommonwealth all through the session He then said that he expected that gentlemen of his party would occupy fully two-thirds of the next house and hoped that they would do as well as has the house of '95.

Hon. N. D. Sperry made a shor and recounted Connecticut's part in the late war and telling o General Terry's victory at Fort Fisher as an historical event of which Connec ticut people should be proud. At this juncture three cheers were given for the boys in blue from Connecticut much to the pleasure of all, especially General Hawley. Mr. Sperry concluded by counselling a love of right, a disgust with wrong and a maintenance of manhood, friendliness and brother hood, and hoped that discords would be but ineffective interludes between the lines. James Macdonald of this city, chair man of the state highway commission, was called upon for a speech, but showed a forebearing spirit in the sweltering heat and lateness of the hour, and told one of his jolly stories for which he is well known, in his own inimitable manner. He also said that the highway commission is doing the cent hotel and five adjoining cottages best it can, and later hopes to give a good report of what it has done.

Other speakers were Senator Warner of Salisbury, Colonel Russell of Windham county, Representative Edgar M. Warner of Putnam, J. A. Porter, Editor of the Hartford Post, Representative Wadsworth of Suffield and J. D. Dewell of New Haven.

Telegrams of regret were read from Senator Platt, who is in the Adirondacks, and Judge Elmer, who was attending the funeral of Representative Lewis in Westbrook. A letter of regret was also read from Representativ Hill of Fairfield county.

The committee of arrangements was composed of A. C. Sternberg of West Hartford, chairman, Representative Eaton of North Hartford and Representative Hale of Portland. Among the gentlemen present were Lieutenant Governor Cooke, Hon. N. D. Sperry, Gen. Hawley, Representative Fessenden, Stiles Judson, ex-Senator Graham, C. H. TROLLEY RIDE TO-DAY. an's Relief Corps Fxcursion This

Woman's Relief corps No. 3 will have their second grand trolley ride to-day starting from the old green at 2 o'clock. They go in the cars of the Winchester avenue road over the various lines of that road. The excursion is open to all friends who may wish to go. The tickets are twenty-five cents each person, and any money raised by the trip will be devoted to the charitable work of the corps. The corps has done a great deal of work in relieving distress and suffering, and has a great many calls now pending for relief. The money, it is needless to say, is expended wisely and where it will do the most good.

Won Their Case.

The residents of Nicoll street, who filed a remonstrance with the county commissioners to their granting a liense to Reynolds & Franklin to open a saloon at 92 Nicoll street, won a complete victory over the applicants on the ground that the proposed location for the saloon is in a purely residential section. The pros and cons of the case were heard by the commissioners. Secretary Thrasher of the Law and Order league appeared for the remonstrants and Reynolds & Donovan for the applicants. Yesterday the commissioners decided the case, rejecting the applica-

Consuls at From $1,000 to $2,500 to be Under Civil Service Rules-Half the Service Affected—The Order Was Suggested by Secretary Olney.

Washington, Sept. 23.-The president has issued an order, under date of Sepember 20, placing all grades of the onsular service, with a compensation fied civil service, which provides for class but not competitive examinations, This order will affect a little more the consular service of the United States.

The order was suggested and strongy recommended in a report to the resident by Secretary Olney. The following is the text of the order

"It being of great importance that the consuls and commercial agents of the United States shall possess the proper qualifications for their respective positions, to be ascertained either through a satisfactory record of previous actual service under the department of state or through an approoriate examination. "It is hereby ordered that any vacancy in a consulate or commercial agency now or hereafter existing the salary of which is not more than $2,500. nor less than $1,000, or the compensation of which, if derived from official fees, exclusive of notarial and other unofficial receipts, does not exceed $2,-500, nor fall below $1,000, shall be filled (a) by a transfer or promotion from some other position under the department of state of a character tending to qualify the incumbent for the posiion to be filled; or (b) by appointment of a person not under the department of state, but having previously served thereunder to its satisfaction in a capacity tending to qualify him for the position to be filled; or (c) by the appointment of a person who, having furnished the customary evidence of character, responsibility and capacity and being thereupon selected by the president for examination, is upon such examination to be qualified for the position.

"For the purposes of this order no tarial and unofficial fees shall not be regarded, but the compensation of a consulate or commercial agency shall e ascertained, if the office is salaried, by reference to the last preceding appropriation act, and if the office is not salaried, by reference to the returns of official fees for the last preceding fiscal year.

"The examination hereinbefore pro vided for shall be by a board of three persons designated by the secretary of state, who shall also prescribe the subjects to which such examination shall relate and the general mode of conducting the same by the board.

"A vacancy in a consulate will be filled at discretion only when a suitable appointment cannot be made in any of the modes indicated in the sec ond paragraph of this order.

A Famous Lecturer and Preacher.

Russell H. Conwell, who lectures at the Church of the Redeemer for the benefit of Taylor church, October 2, is to practice with during the summer and pastor of the largest Protestant church who played on the Yale Consolidated America. Its membership is about team last fall, arrived in town yesterday 2,600. He preaches also to the largest and began practice at once with the audience of any Protestant minister in the United States. The auditorium of the church of which he is pastor will seat between three and four thousand, and five thousand when crowded to its full capacity. He has a second auditorium seating some two thousand, which is often filled on Sunday ever ings, and preparations are being made for a third audience room. The church has grown in ten years under Mr. Conwell to this great membership from about fifty-nine members, who were connected with it when he became pastor. At that time the church building would seat about 350 and was heavily in debt. Their present temple, which is not only the largest, but one of the most beautiful church auditoriums in the U nited States, cost $250,000, Connected with the church are some fifty-two societies. There is also a college with over 6,000 students, and a hospital for which seven acres of land has recently een purchased. Mr. Conwell was formerly a newspa per man and lawyer, and was led to become a minister through engaging in Christian work with Tremont Temple, Boston. He has been in the lec ture field for over thirty years, and has delivered in this country and Europe over 3,000 lectures. The lecture which he delivers in New Haven is entitled "Acres of Diamonds" and brimful of instruction and ertertainment. Tickets may be obtained at Judd's bookstore or at the church on the night of the

Perhaps no athletic event of the season is now looked forward to with more interest than the Yale-Cambridge games to be held October 5 on Manhattan field. between $1,000 and $2,500, under a modi- Additional interest is lent to them from the fact of the defeat of the Londor Athletic club the other day by the New Yorkers, and Englishmen are in hopes han one-half of all those engaged in that the Cambridge men may get back at the Americans by winning from Vale The English team is now at hard practice every day at Yale field and those few members of the team who were slightly ailing have entirely recovered. Hon. William C. Whitney has been appointed chairman of the general committee having charge of the games and William Williams secretary. The exec utive committee consists of W.W. Skidd Buchanan Winthrop, Arthur M. Dodge Otto T. Barnard, Julian W. Curtiss, George G. Haven, jr., Charles H. Sherrill, J. Sanford Barnes, jr., McLane Van Ingen, G. K. B. Wade, Sherman Day, and Lewis P. Sheldon. The applications for tickets greatly exceed all expectations. The committee having the games in charge say that upwards of thre thousand applications have been made and they will not be surprised if the attendance is fifteen thousand. Th attendance at the Yale-Oxford games in London last year was upward of te thousand, and as this will be the firs international intercollegiate meeting of this side of the Atlantic the follower of Old Ell's sons are anxious to see what the boys can do when the climatic con ditions are reversed. Mr. Day said Sat urday that persons desiring seats were at liberty to enclose their blank appli tions for five seats each. In other words the committee will allow as many a fifteen seats to go to one party of per sons if the application meets with ap proval. This new rule has been mad in order to supply clubs and others desiring to have partles sit togethe thereby preventing confusion. Ticket speculators have been after seats, bu up to date their efforts to obtain them have been unsuccessful. After Octobe 1 tickets will be placed on public sale
